

November 13, 2020

Dear TRSU families, faculty, and staff,

It has been brought to my attention that the recognition of the reality that some of our families and staff would travel and need to quarantine was being taken as encouragement to do so.

Today's message from the Governor is absolutely clear:

No one should be traveling out of state at this time nor should anyone be hosting visitors from out of state.

In addition, as of Saturday, November 14, there should be no multiple household gatherings of any kind, even with friends and family who live in the state of Vermont.

The new restrictions can be found here: Addendum to Governor's Executive Order

The TRSU administration encourages everyone to stay home and stay safe.

The decisions around our ability to safely run in person instruction have been, and will continue to be, based on what is actually happening, not on what we wish were happening.

If your holiday plans and need to quarantine have changed as a result of the new guidance from the state, or for any reason, please let your school principal know.

Thank you for your continued patience and support.
